

MANCHU DYNASTY DOOMED

Republic Has Been Proclaimed by Rebels at Wu Chang

HANKOW IS THREATENED

Fire is Ragging and Many Buildings Have Been Destroyed—Streets Filled With Dead

Hankow, Oct. 14.—Scores of corpses are lying in the streets of Wu chang and the pillaging of their homes continues. It is estimated that nearly 1000 men have fallen before the fury of the mob.

Shanghai, Oct. 14.—A republic has been proclaimed at Wu Chang.
A conflagration has broken out in the native city of Hankow.
The government buildings and banks have been destroyed.

Peking, Oct. 14.—China last night was swept to its four corners by the revolution. With thousands of the troops deserting to join the insurrection almost hourly the government is apparently powerless and the downfall of the Manchu dynasty seems inevitable.

Peking, 1,000 miles away from the rebel stronghold, in the center of the province is threatened with the fate of Hankow, a large part of which has been destroyed, and where hundreds of Manchus have been killed.

The government has decided to concentrate its efforts to save Peking and unprecedented military activity within the walls of the great city is the result.

Thirty thousand troops, who were to have departed for the military maneuvers at Kaifeng, are on the move in the streets and several other divisions of the army are enroute for the suburbs.

That Peking can be saved is now deemed impossible. The garrison is known to be partially disloyal and it is feared the first uprising will be the signal for a wholesale desertion, which can mean nothing less than the destruction of the city.

Chang and Yo Chow have been taken and hundreds of their Manchu residents slain. A late dispatch reports a battle in progress at Chang-king and predicts the early fall of that city.

The troops at the great military posts at Paoingfu and Tienstin, a few miles outside of this city are reported to be ready to join the insurrectors.

Changsha, the capital of Hunan, has been captured and the Yamen of the viceroy and of the Tartar General have been burned.

Wild disorder prevails at Hankow tonight. The revolutionists are making every effort to restore order in the city which yesterday they destroyed. Great numbers of criminals who were liberated from the prisons last night and the Hooligan element are pillaging and foraging what few buildings remain standing.

The loss of life at Hankow cannot be estimated. Fire has been sweeping the city since early last evening.
The streets are filled with dead.
Last night was one of indescribable terror.

As fast as the rioters are captured they are executed. Scores met death in this manner.

All the provinces of Szechuen, west of the Min River, is in the hands of the rebels. The revolutionists have seized the provincial treasury and mint at Szechuen which contained about 2,000,000 taels.

Fifteen thousand regular Chinese troops in the province of Szechuen joined the rebels today, leaving the province with practically no government protection.

It is reported here that the operations of the rebels are being directed by Sun Yat Sen, now in the United States, whom the rebels hope to elect president of the new republic.

The foreigners have not been molested as yet. A division of allied

ESCAPED FROM STATE HOSPITAL

The local police department has been ordered to keep a sharp lookout for Robert Markley, a vaudeville performer who was committed from Franklin county to the State Hospital at Columbus. He is known as "Montana Bob" and escaped yesterday from the bake shop at the state hospital. He was ordered committed after he had twice attempted to shoot his wife and five times attempted to commit suicide. At the time of his arrest he was on the stage at Columbus.

Polo Grounds, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Giants took the lead in the World's Champion contest here this afternoon by taking the initial game. A pitcher's battle between Matthewson and Bender was the feature.

The contest was from start to finish a pitchers' duel between premier slabmen of the rival leagues and while the Indian was hit offener than the peerless Matthewson, the latter's arm held up better in the finishing round and that, coupled with a timely pinch hit by Devore in the seventh inning, gave the National Leaguers the one run necessary to clinch the game.

ter the world's series today with the Giants, National League chamions with a weakened team.

Jack McInnis, first baseman, will be out of the Athletics' batting order. McInnis' right wrist is still sore from being hit by one of Geo.
Mullens' in-shoots in the last Athletic-Detroit series. Capt. Harry Davis, who was replaced by McInnis in mid-season will return to first base and play throughout the series. Davis does not rank with McInnis as a batter, fielder or base runner. He has played very little since McInnis' injury and he has shown little of his old-time form. McInnis' wrist is so sore that he cannot throw the ball from first base to the pitcher and it is doubtful if he can be used even as a pinch hitter.

Managers Mack and McGraw were late for this morning. They went to bed last night, Mack smiling and confident, McGraw serious and apparently with the belief that his Giants will have a hard battle. The Athletic players observed the old "early to bed, early to rise" rule and all were up bright and early and took walks. The Giants will meet this forenoon at the polo grounds for a final rehearsal of signals and plays.

Both teams will use entirely new signals in the series and each probably has two or three extra sets in reserve. Scouts from each team have watched its final play the past three weeks. McGraw to make doubly sure against a leak, did not give the Giants the signals until yesterday's secret practice. There will be little more betting unless there is a break just before the game. Long odds will be offered on the winner of the first game. Giant supporters have been holding off for at least 10 to 3. The line of fans did not form at the polo grounds until 10 o'clock.
Only a few camped out all night.
Thousands were waiting east before the gates were thrown open.

A flood of bogus tickets added to the fans' anger over ticket speculators cornering the market. The bogus tickets are just like the real ones except that the names of John T.
Brush and John Whalon, president and treasurer of the Giants, are printed on them. Fac simile signatures of the club's officials appear on the real tickets.

Special officers examine all tickets and the fans who hold spurious tickets will be thrown out of line to prevent a blockade at the entrance.
Neither Mack nor McGraw would announce his pitching selection for the opening struggle, but Christy Matthewson and Chief Bender are almost sure to do the heavy work. Mar-quard is McGraw's second choice and Plank, Mack's.

A warming sun shines from a cloudless morning sky. It is cool enough for overcoats. An ideal day is promised. Line up:

PARCELS POST IS FAVORED

Farmers' Congress Urges Better Roads and Waterways

DENOUNCES RECIPROCITY

Would Abolish Free Distribution of Seeds—Ohio Farmers Organize Congress.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—Following the lead taken by the newly-organized Ohio Farmers' Congress, the resolutions committee of the Farmers' National Congress yesterday prepared for submission to the main body resolutions which advocate a parcels post system, liberal government aid in the improvement of public roads and inland waterways, and the Groot educational bill, giving national aid to the teaching of agriculture in the public schools.

Ignoring Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and President Taft, the committee prepared for presentation a resolution which reads:

"Resolved, That the Farmers' National Congress has implicit confidence in Dr. Wiley and his honest purpose in enforcing the pure food laws of the United States."

Reciprocity, though dead, still remained to be hung, drawn and quartered, and the farmers did it in these words, demanding:

"A fair and equal measure of protection accorded to all industries of the country needing protection. Any discrimination against the farmer will be opposed by our influence and resented by our votes. We will never submit to selling in a free trade market and buying in a protected market."

"We approve the action of the executive committee in going on record officially through our legislative agent against the passage by congress of the so-called Canadian pact in the form in which it was introduced."

Five other resolutions call for congressional enactment of a pure seed law and such "national legislation as will be necessary to abolish the free distribution of seeds by members of congress;" the issue of government liquor licenses in dry territory and adoption of the congressional immigration commission's plan for restricting undesirable immigration. Of great importance, as the farmers saw it, was this resolution:

"This congress approves of and in-dorses the action of a conference of governors in New Jersey relative to the appointment of a committee to properly safeguard the rights of the several states before the supreme court in the Sanborn rate case. We regard their action as both patriotic and proper."

Indications last night were that George M. Whitaker of Washington will be elected president to succeed Joshua Strange of Marion, Ind., who retires. The other candidates are C.
F. Sanborn of London and Treasurer W. L. Ames of Wisconsin. Mr. Sanborn probably will be re-elected first vice president and kept in line for president next year. The choice of Mr. Whitaker is declared to be in recognition of his long service and hard work as secretary.

Despite an eloquent address made by Lewis Nixon of New York, members of the resolutions committee suspected a joker in the proposition to submit a resolution favoring a merchant marine and laid it over.
Ship subsidy is the ghost that frightened.

Despite also the pains of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson in sending his first assistant, Willet M. Hays, to the congress, both were completely ignored. President Taft won a few friends by reason of a telegram to the legislative agent, George M.
Stahl of Chicago.

"I am intensely interested in everything that has to do with the advancement of the agricultural interests of the country. I extend to the Farmers' National Congress my heartiest good wishes for a successful meeting."

Opposition to the tariff commission was voiced by Mr. Stahl, who told of legislative accomplishments.
He said it became apparent early in January that the tariff commission was nothing more than an excuse for an assault on the interests of the farmer, "even before the alleged reciprocity pact was made public." He blamed division in the ranks of several agricultural societies for failure to make a strong fight against reciprocity.

Predicting the early passage of the parcels post bill, he read a letter from Minority Leader James R.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE HARLAN DEAD AT WASHINGTON HOME FOLLOWING BRIEF ILLNESS

Washington, Oct. 14.—Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan, senior member of the U. S. supreme court, aged 78 years, died at his home here at 8:15 this morning, following a brief illness of bronchitis which developed complications. He sat on the bench when the October term of court opened Monday, but on Tuesday he was confined to his home with a cold which gradually grew worse. The aged justice won extraordinary fame last spring when he dissented from the remainder of the highest court in the Standard and Tobacco trusts decisions.

Harlan served 34 years on the bench, which, with one exception, is the longest term in the history of the country. His death gives President Taft the duty of selecting his fifth member to the bench, which will make a majority of its members chosen by him. Justice Harlan was born in Boyle county, Kentucky, and served in the Civil War under General Thomas. The justice passed away in a peaceful sleep. He was comparatively poor in the matter of money, but a multi-millionaire in honor and esteem.

EMPLOYER'S LIABILITY ACT Employees Desiring to Accept Benefits That This Law Provides Should Write to the State Liability Board of Awards, Columbus, Ohio.

Columbus, Oct. 14.—The Employers' Liability Act is a labor measure. The efforts of trade unions contributed as much as any other single factor toward the securing of this bill. Union representatives were not justly dealt with in personal injury cases, and they declared a better method, that would do away with the expensiveness and retardations of the old system, could be devised. The Employers' liability act was offered as being a measure to correct conditions.

But for the support organized labor gave the bill when it was pending in the Ohio legislature, the measure probably would not have passed both houses. Now that it is a law, the co-operation of employees (throughout Ohio is needed by The State Board of Awards, which is to administer the workmen's compensation fund, to make the act a success.

Employees who desire to accept the benefits this law has to offer, should write to The State Liability Board of Awards, Columbus, O.

A state insurance fund is to be raised by payments collected by the State Liability Board of Awards from both employers and employees. The amount is based upon the payroll of wage and the hazard of employment.

All the money so collected will be diverted back into the compensation channels, i. e., it will go to compensate injured workmen for their disabilities, and, as awards, to the dependants of killed employees. The state maintains the department out of the general tax fund. There will be no tedious delays in getting damages such as the injured workman now experiences, nor will an attorney deduct a fee from the amount awarded.

An injured workman will receive no compensation for the first week of disability. In case of temporary or partial disability he shall receive two-thirds of the impairment of his earning capacity during his disability, but not more than $12.00 nor less than $5.00 a week unless the wage received was less than $5.00 a week, in which case he shall receive full wage nor for longer than six years from date of injury, nor shall a total amount of more than $3,400 be so received for such injury.

In case the workman is permanently disabled, he shall receive two-thirds of his average weekly wage until death, but in no case more than $13 nor less than $5, a week, unless the wage received was less than $5.00 a week, in which case he shall receive full wages. In case of death, reasonable funeral expenses (not more than $150) will be paid.

For medical, nurse, and hospital services for injured employees the board will pay what it deems proper (not more than $200) in addition to the award.

In case of death where there are wholly dependent persons two-thirds of the average weekly wage shall be paid to them for the remainder of the period between the date of death and six years after the date of the injury, but in no case more than $2,000 or less than $1,500.

In case of death where there are partly dependent persons they shall receive two-thirds of the average weekly wage for such periods as the board in each case may determine but not longer than six years from the date of the injury causing death, nor for a total amount of more than $3,400.

COL. TAYLOR CALLED TO LONG REST

Noted Editor, Author and Soldier Sleeps Peacefully Away

PTOMAIN POISONING

Caused Dissolution After Two Weeks' Illness—Native of Perry County.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—Death yesterday claimed Colonel William A. Taylor, editor, author, soldier, historian and political writer, at his home in Franklin avenue, after an illness of two weeks from ptomaine poisoning. He slept away at 5:30.
The end was painless.

At the time of his death he held the position of state commissioner of soldiers' claims and was working on at least two historical reviews of Ohio. Similar works had engaged many years of his life.

Colonel Taylor was seized two weeks ago, while returning from a banquet at a downtown hotel. He became worse before reaching home and at once retired to his bed, from which he never arose.

Surviving him is his widow, who was Miss Janet Allen Tarrier of Zanesville. Mrs. Mary Rinehart of Columbus is his niece. One son died 13 years ago at the age of 23. Although a member of a family of 16 children, no brothers or sisters are living.

News of Colonel Taylor's death brought sorrow to many friends in Columbus. Governor Harmon, who appointed him to his present position last year, said:

"I was very fond of Colonel Taylor, having known him for more than 30 years. He was one of the old type of editors. He took great interest in his office and services there, seemed to satisfy everybody."

Colonel Taylor was a native of Perry county and was 74 years of age. He was of revolutionary war stock. As a young man he worked on his father's farm, studied law and at the age of 21 was admitted to the bar. He preferred the pen to legal controversy and entered newspaper work as editor of a weekly paper at New Lexington. His next engagement was at Zanesville, and subsequently he went to Cincinnati, where he became an editorial writer under Washington McLean, when John R.
McLean, the present owner, was a reporter on the paper.

Colonel Taylor worked as an editor and reported in Pittsburg and New York. He was editor of the Pittsburg Post and later of the Pittsburg Telegraph, and was connected with the New York Sun and New York World. In 1890 he returned to Ohio to become editor of the Ohio Statesman. He was editorial writer of the Columbus News before taking charge of the office he held at the time of his death. For many years Colonel Taylor was regarded as one of the leading political writers of Ohio. He did much work as political correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer.

In politics he was a Democrat, once served a term as clerk of the state senate, and was his party's candidate for secretary of state in 1892 and for congress in the Twelfth district in 1906. In 1892 he was beaten by only 1000 votes by Samuel Taylor of Urbana. In 1896 his opponent was Congressman E. L. Taylor. He was a candidate for lieutenant governor in 1893, but then was not believed by a man of his own name.

From May to August, 1864, he served in the One Hundred and Sixty-ninth O. V. I. around Washington.
He has in late years taken an active interest in the G. A. R. and was a member of McCoy Post.

He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Northwest Historical and Genealogical Society, and an honorary member of the Historical Society of England. He was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Colonel Taylor was a prolific writer, both prose and poetry. He

AMUSEMENTS

What the Press Agent Says

"THE FAMILY."

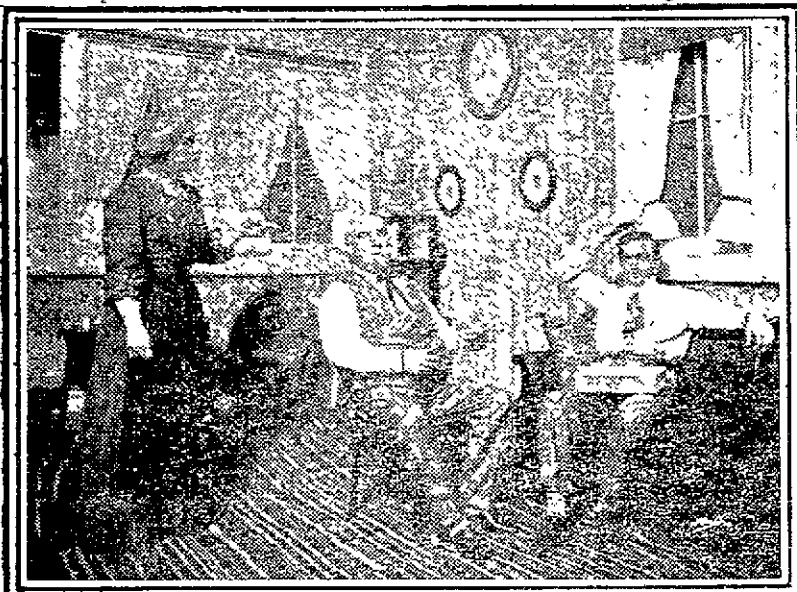

A play that has caused a great deal of discussion and comment in New York, Chicago and Boston and which is entitled "The Family" was written by Robert H. Davis, the editor of eight of the largest magazines in the United States. The play will be given its first local presentation at the Auditorium on next Tuesday night for one performance.

It is said that no more significant play with domestic scenes has been written for the American stage. It is full of good, hearty laughter, intense situations, tender heart interest, and masterful character drawing. To the two families reporting the largest number of members, the Advocate will present each with tickets, for parents and the children.

"THE CHORUS LADY."

"The Chorus Lady," which comes to the Auditorium on Wednesday, Oct. 18, for an engagement of one night, was one of the biggest successes of the season in New York, where it ran for one solid year. The New York World criticizes as follows:

"The Chorus Lady," by James Forbes, which was presented at the Wallace's theatre last night, proved to be one of the best comedies of the season. Not only did the author provide four acts of keen enjoyment, but he introduced a character entirely new to Broadway.

"THE NEW BOHEMIAN GIRL."

Modern methods of stage production will be highly exemplified in the Aborn Opera company's mammoth spectacular production of "The New Bohemian Girl," which comes to the Auditorium on Saturday, Oct. 21, matinee and night.

In this big musical which proved one of the truly great hits of the last season, the wonderful voice power and ingenuity of modern stage artists is clearly demonstrated.

In the several original and novel scenes are introduced a band of Gypsies, Gypsy camps, caravans and barbed wire, a cavalcade of twenty horses, a town fair of old Bohemia in this scene there will appear a troupe of real Gypsy whirlwind acrobats, said to be the most marvelous performers that ever came to this country—also juggling troubadours, fortune tellers, and the usual motley crowd seen at such gatherings. Management stages settings that will tax to its utmost capacity the dimensions of the stage, and have been provided for all of the scenes, and will undoubtedly delight both old and young alike.

THE ORPHEUM.

One of the biggest novelties of the season will be seen at the popular Arcade playhouse the first three days of next week. Circus Pettum has something entirely new to offer and nothing of its kind has ever played in Newark and Mr. Pettum is desirous that all the praise he is receiving from his larger clubs. There are seven people in the act and a trick mule. Not a fake mule, but a real one which will keep you laughing every minute with its clever capers. When you least expect it he lands one of the seven out into the audience or some place just as queer with one of his curious tricks. This is an act well worth seeing. Lowell and Ester Drew have a singing and dancing specialty which is said to be very entertaining, being very clever dancers and singers, with an ability to make anything which they attempt worth while. The Syndicate Operatic Duo promise a big treat in the musical line. They both have voices exactly suited to the many opera gems which they offer. The Great Domencella is a trick violinist and is sure to win his share of applause with his popular and classic selections. The Orpheum patrons have always appreciated a good violinist, so don't forget the one coming. The Orpheumscope will have a good film

GIANTS ARE THE FAVORITES WITH THE NEWARK FANS

The Giants will win the world's championship.

At least that is the opinion of the majority of the local fans who have been approached on the subject. Out of 15 local enthusiasts seen and asked ed to pick their choice, nine chose McGraw's club and five picked Connie Mack and his Athletics to copy the bunting.

The Only Player on Either Team Who Ever Wore a Newark Uniform.

One of the 15 refused to name his choice, saying that he had not been able to decide for himself which team had the better chance.

Newark people will watch with much interest how First Baseman Merkle conducts himself in this series. They have not forgotten the season when he was blamed, justly or otherwise, for the loss of the pennant to the Giants.

More than that, Merkle is the man on the two contending teams who has performed in a Newark uniform. Yes, he is the only actor in this great real life drama that ever wore a uniform.

Back in 1906, when Cap Hayes was at the head of things baseball in Newark, Merkle was recommended to Cap by the Toledo club. He was ordered to report forthwith. He did.

He got into a game one afternoon at Wehrle Park and his throwing of the diamond almost broke up the game. He whipped the ball across the diamond on a dead line, and it was less than five minutes before he had all the infielders sore.

He started with the club on the road, the first stop being Akron. About half way between Mansfield and Akron, Hayes turned Merkle adrift and he returned to Toledo from there he went to New York. If all he played five games with Newark.

In picking the winner of the present world's series, most of those interviewed admit it is difficult to choose between the two. Both teams have good pitchers and good hitters and both have shrewd pilots in charge of the club.

Some of the opinions follow: Bill Gerlach: "I pick the Athletics to win the bunting."

Jess Smucker: "I haven't been able to pick the winner. They both look good to me."

Harry Hale: "The Giants for me. Muggsy McGraw will win that championship sure."

Dean Alderman, city editor Marietta Journal: "My money is all placed on the Giants."

Joe Miller: "The Athletics will win sure, particularly if Doyle's injury keeps him out of the series."

Captain Williams, Central fire department: "The Giants for my choice."

George McClure, police headquarters: "I pick the Giants to win the series."

Leo Davis: "Connie Mack's Athletics will be easy winners."

Guy Tracey, manager of Atherton team: "The Giants are my choice in the world's series."

Clarence Jones, manager of C. M. A. team: "I pick the Giants to win the championship pennant."

C. R. Williams, advance man for "The Family," at the Auditorium next Tuesday: "My money is all on the Giants. McGraw's team will win the series easily."

Geo. Wallace, Newark commercial man: "I'll place all the money possible on New York. The Athletics haven't a show."

W. B. Wingerter: "Nothing to bet on the Giants."

C. J. Potter: "Mr. Wingerter can have all of my money he wants. I am betting on the Athletics."

Wallace Diment: "Haven't decided, as they both look good to me."

Warren DeVoe: "You know who Matthewson and Marquard pitch for don't you? Well, you know who will win, then."

Dennis Lincum: "I place my money on the Giants. I think they have the best chance to win."

Frank Douce: "The Athletics will put the 'jinx' on the Giants. Connie Mack will win the series sure."

C. R. S. Smith, manager United Press, Columbus: "I'll place all my money on the Athletics to win the series. I'll take all bets that come as long as my funds last."

C. M. A. CLUB CLOSES VERY GOOD SEASON

PITCHER ATWOOD HOLDS BATTING RECORD IN 23 GAMES.

Good Pitching Record—Catcher Miller Captures High Honors in Fielding.

The C. M. A. baseball club has closed a very successful season, the third since its organization. Under the management of Clarence Jones, the club has made a good record. While the percentage of games won is below the .500 mark, it does not necessarily mean that this is a real measure of the team's ability. The club met all corners. They did not hesitate to meet the fast Hiawatha team at Mt. Vernon, although the club was composed of numerous ex-leaguers. Other clubs composed of classy ball players were met, without regard to their past records, and this resulted in some disastrous scores.

Individually the players showed up well. The team batted .245 and eight of the individuals were above the .250 mark. Atwood, the team's mainstay in the pitching department, was the leader in stick work. He finished the season with an average of .333 in 23 games. Miller and Brown played in every one of the 26 games and quit the season with batting averages of .332 and .297, respectively.

Miller was also the high honor man in the fielding department, having played the full 26 games and quit with a fielding average of .977. Brown's position, second base, made his playing a little more hazardous, and he quit with an average of .918.

AGED RESIDENTS HAVE BAD FALLS

Mt. Vernon, Oct. 11.—Two aged Knox county residents had remarkable escapes from serious injuries yesterday in tumbling down flights of steps. Mrs. Mary Steinmetz, aged 95, was seized with a fainting spell while ascending the stairs at her home and fell the entire flight. She was rendered unconscious, but sustained no fractured bones. She will recover.

Levi Revington, aged 70 years, lost his way in the dark at his home and opened the wrong door. He walked off the landing at the top of the cellar steps and fell headlong down the flight, his head striking against the basement wall. He was rendered conscious, but sustained no fractured bones. He will recover.

Society

The S. F. club met at the home of Mrs. William F. Graef in Clinton street, Friday afternoon. Work for the year was planned after which an enjoyable time was had by all members present. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Evelyn Campfield on North street.

The Newark Masonic club will entertain the members and their ladies on Tuesday evening, October 17.

A nutting party, composed of a number of young ladies, members of the Thursday Evening Euchre club, left on an early morning Panhandle train for Frazzysburg, from which point they went out to the pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prazler, where they were royally entertained. This part of the country is noted for the abundance and excellence of its chestnut crops, and as the nuts are unusually plentiful this year the members of the party had no trouble in gathering large quantities of them. A splendid dinner, prepared by Mrs. Prazler, was also much enjoyed.

Those in the party were the Misses Rhea Ingler, Dot Woodward, Emma Kammerer, Lillian Kammerer, Amy Alspach, Helen Pieg, Jesse Sweeting, Mary Louise Rank, Lillian Rugs, Helen Redman, Bessie Taafel, and Mr. Harry Miller.

On Wednesday afternoon the Point-setta club was entertained by Mrs. Spencer Pink at her home in Indiana street. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in sewing and light refreshments were served.

The following members were present Mrs. C. B. Keller, Mrs. Arthur Davis, Mrs. Forest Wilson and Misses Emma Jones and Lillian Keller. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. B. Keller of Ninth street.

The Knights of St. John will entertain with the first of their series of winter dances on Monday evening in A. I. U. Hall. These dances were very popular last winter among the Knights and their ladies and Stevens' orchestra will again furnish the dance program.

Mrs. P. E. Snelling very pleasantly entertained at dinner on Thursday at her home in Pearl street the following ladies: Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. S. Colling, Mrs. J. Cool and daughter Jennie, Mother Deming, Mrs. L. Altherton and Mrs. Bonham. The time was spent in social conversation and all had a pleasant day.

The Photozeta club was entertained on the club day at the home of Mrs. Earl Sayres. The program follows:

Quotations—William C. Bryant.
Discussion, Washington Irving—Leader, Hazel Armstrong.
Readings—Legend of Sleepy Hollow, Emma Ankele; The Alhambra, Jessie Brown; Life of Columbus, Mrs. P. H. Cosner; Outline of Hamlet, Kathryn Suter.
Critic—Ada Simms.

The club will be entertained at the home of Miss Kathryn Suter on October 21.

The Coterie club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. C. D. Paramore in the Mt. Vernon road on Friday. The following program was given from the calendar: Character Sketches—Grant, Mrs. Long; Sherman, Mrs. Brooks; Lee, Mrs. Frye; Davis, Mrs. Shaw.

Current History—Mrs. Hess.
Roll Call—Battle of Civil War.
Critic—Mrs. Walter Ashley.

In addition to the regular club program a vocal solo was given by Burdelle Paramore and a piano solo by Lorena Berger. Delicious refreshments were served the members and following guests: Mesdames J. R. Tibbles, Howard Barrick, J. C. Berger, Harry L. Bone, Harry Kirkpatrick, and Lorena Berger and Burdelle Paramore.

Mrs. William Hall entertained with a luncheon of very pretty appointments on Wednesday afternoon at their home in the Granville road. The luncheon honored Mrs. Edward Hall of Celina, Ohio. The guests were Mrs. Edward Hall, Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. Charles Montgomery, Mr. Harry Swisher, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall and Mrs. Edward Hirst.

Broiled Chicken. Singe, split down the back, clean and wipe with a damp cloth. Rub inside and out with a little butter, then sprinkle with salt and pepper. Arrange on a greased wire broiler. Cook with flesh side toward the fire at first. When seared hold a little farther away from the fire. Turn occasionally on the skin side but be careful as it readily scorches. A chicken weighing two pounds and a half will take from fifteen to twenty minutes; if not well done, it will be tough. Transfer to a hot platter and rub again with butter.

Cold Slaw. Fill a dish with cabbage cut fine, make a dressing of the yolks of four hard boiled eggs, two table-spoonful of mixed mustard on table-spoonful of sugar and one teaspoonful of salt and a little pepper, one-quarter of a pound of butter, one teaspoonful of cream. Mix these ingredients thoroughly, and boil a few minutes, having previously added half a cupful of vinegar; after boiling pour over the cabbage while hot. Serve cold.

DEMI-TOILETTE BLOUS E FOR STREET SUIT.

One of the ways by which some women contrive to have a single tailored suit do the work of several costumes is to have a variety of blouses to wear with it and one of these extra waists should certainly be of mousseline de sole of a shade precisely matching that of the serge, cheviot or mohair walking skirt. If this blouse is elaborately embroidered in silk floss, as in the case of this one of dark green embellished with a design in black and self color, and is made with a half-low neck and elbow sleeves, it may quite well be worn to an informal evening entertainment.

HAD SALT-RHEUM FOR MANY YEARS

Doctors Failed to Cure Him—Goodhair Soap Did the Work in Three Days.

"For a long time I have suffered and been annoyed with a breaking out on the back of my hands, the doctors called it salt rheum. My hands were in such an awful condition I was ashamed to have them seen, so I did not have a pair of old gloves on I would keep my hands in my pockets to prevent undue attention. Consulted several doctors and tried a number of remedies without any good result. Mr. J. I. Bolton of this city gave me two little samples of Goodhair Soap, requesting me to try it. WEST VIRGINIA FARMS VISITED BY C. W. MONTGOMERY

Editor Advocate: I am again working in the land, not of "hills and valleys," but hills and hills, West Virginia.

Thursday was a lovely morning, and as I rode up the Tygarts Valley on the B. & O. from Grafton to Elkins the scene was beautiful indeed. The fall of the river is quite great and its bed rocky, that breaks the water into whirlpools and rapids, scattering, surging and foaming, causing wonder and admiration.

West Virginia furnishes coal, oil and gas to heat and light many distant places, but some day these will be exhausted, and then what? They will harness these turbulent rivers. This river is so narrow that in many places a stone can be thrown across and the material is right at hand to make the dam, and through power generated by the fall of the water, West Virginia will still be furnishing heat and light for other places. Along the river are many splendid locations for orchards, but the trees have not yet been planted, though I learned that at Bellington an orchard company has been formed and 300 or 400 acres have been planted to trees.

This valley all the way from Grafton to Elkins is very narrow, and from the car window I could not see much chance for growing cultivated crops, but I am told that at some places, when you get on top of the hills, there is quite a level plateau suited to farming.

At Elkins we are made aware of what West Virginia's wealth consists, for here are the palatial residences of three United States senators, Elkins, Davis and Kearns.

Our first institute was at Holley Meadows, in Tucker county. Here are about 360 acres of bottom land along Cheat River, and it is naturally good farming land, but I am told this is about all the farming land there is in the county. Here lowlands are called "holly" because of the holly bushes growing on them.

The people here are beginning to truck these bottoms, but the principal crops are corn and buckwheat. It looked strange to me to see level bottom land on which buckwheat was growing. They sometimes make 40 bushels of buckwheat per acre and it sells for 60 to 70 cents per bushel.

These people are strangely ignorant of the use of legume as soil builders, some having tried cow peas or vetch once and, failing, concluded, they were not adapted to their soil. So many people have forgotten that old lesson in the school reader, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

other sections of fruit growing, some are starting orchards, but putting them on the lowlands. When I told them what a mistake this was, one gentleman brought in samples the second day to support my advice. Apples grown at his place on the lowlands were clouded, covered with fungous of various kinds, while the same variety grown on the mountain were clear and waxen, free from disease and of high flavor.

The mountain sides here are covered with timber, and getting this timber to the pulp mills and the collecting of tanbark furnish employment to a good many people.

RULING OF JUDGE IN M'NAMARA CASE

Los Angeles, Oct. 14.—That a political amendment forced through the legislature for the benefit of the railroad machine which for years controlled the destiny of this state will prove an enormous factor in the make-up of the jury which will pass on the guilt or innocence of James T. McNamara, was admitted by both sides in the case today. The common law asserts that a person having an opinion which it would require evidence to remove is not qualified to serve on the jury. The amendment forced through the legislature provided that if a man admitted an opinion and also that he was willing to waive such an opinion, he was qualified for jury service. This is the situation which the prisoner is facing today and is the point over which the prosecution and defense are wrangling.

After listening to the arguments most of yesterday and until adjournment today, Judge Bordwell withheld his ruling. The arguments were brought forth by the efforts of the defense to eliminate C. T. Nelson from the list of prospective jurors.

REBUILDING ROAD
ESTABLISHED IN 1820

A gang of men commenced work on the Tom Payne pike at John Kirby's on the Croton road last week. This pike will be built from Newark to Croton but the job was sold in sections. The specifications call for a feet on either side of a road bed. It also proposes to widen the Croton road from 45 to 60 feet. Property owners along the way are considerably disturbed by the widening of the road as it has always been a 15 foot road. The road was established in 1820 and the commissioners claim it was established under a special act of the legislature passed previous to 1820 and should be 60 feet wide. While many have torn down their fences and commenced to comply with the orders, there are others who want to be shown.

HIGHEST BUILDING IN UNITED STATES.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—The first of the various buildings for housing the Panama-Pacific International Expon-sition, to be held in San Francisco in 1915, has been designed, and its magnitude as well as the ideas that it is intended to perpetuate in enduring form, is an indication that this Exposition will in every particular, far surpass any of its predecessors in determining the progress and achievements of mankind in arts, crafts and all lines of social improvement and betterment.

The accompanying picture gives an idea of the appearance of this massive monument as it will look when completed. From the floor of its base to the top of the great figure of Victory surmounting the shaft, the tower will be 576 feet in height, making it the tallest building in the world. The construction will be of steel and concrete. The exterior of the tower will be covered with marble or some equally durable and desirable finishing material. The base of the tower will be 232 feet square, and 126 feet high. From the top of this base will arise the main shaft to a height of 550 feet, and the summit will be 85 feet square. There will be four passenger elevators to carry people to the top, from which point a magnificent panorama of the Panama-Pacific Exposition and of the city, the bay and San Francisco harbor can be obtained.

CONCERNING SWINE.

Some kinds of hogs are sure to drop into the busy barber shop on Saturday, when people there await their turn to take a chair and have the gentle barber prune the whiskered tassel and festoon. And when the hog gets in a chair the barber has to cut his hair, and treat him to a dry shampoo and give him a good shave. It takes the barber half a day to carry down this swinish jay, and people have to wait their turn, and righteous wrath doth in them burn. You've seen the porker in the car, who wants all comferts that there are; he occupies a pair of seats; on one he pillows his grin and feet, and on the next his carcass lies, while to a book he clings his eyes, thus to avoid, by hoggish guile, the gaze of people in the aisle, who stand on feet that ache and smart, and curse the hog, from heels to heart. Oh, logs that roam on footstools four, you're surely creatures to adore, compared with hogs on trillies two who root their way this sad world through!

MONNOTT CLAIMS HUNGER MADE HIM VERY DESPERATE

Milton Monnott, charged with assault and battery, appeared in police court Saturday morning for a hearing. He was charged with assaulting George Hand, an employee of the Wehrle Company. After hearing the evidence, Monnott was found guilty and fined $10 and costs and given a county jail sentence of 10 days. In defending his action Monnott told the mayor that he had been driven to desperation by hunger. "If you had gone without meals as long as I have, you would do something desperate, too," said Monnott.

DO YOU WASH IN STREAKS?
Some women do. They can't help it.
They don't have time to wash out the sticky yellow soap. They are too tired, anyway. There's no yellow in Hewitt's Easy Task Laundry soap.
It's white and pure. Makes a quick, foamy suds that chases dirt out and sends the wash out snow white to the line. Your grocer has it. Five cents a cake.

Mann, pledging support. Champ Clark would not commit himself.
Following Mr. Hays' address on rural life, Secretary A. P. Sandles of the state board of agriculture, advocated four things to revolutionize life in the country, better agriculture, better transportation, better education and improved taxation systems. He said it would be better if we had fewer battleships and more money spent on highways and schools. He was cheered enthusiastically.

Professor Vivian of Ohio State University, speaking on "To What Extent Have Agricultural Colleges Improved Agriculture?" saw a revolution in farming through trained farmers. "The best work that has been done is being done with ammunition furnished by college of agriculture," he said. "We have 200 in our colleges of agriculture. We ought to have 1000. If we had we'd have more 28-bushels-of-wheat-an-acre farmers and fewer 14-bushels-an-acre farmers."

Dudley Grant Hays of the National Soil Fertility Society proposed the society's plan to the congress. He said:

"It is proposed to send out from the state agricultural colleges through their extension departments, graduated soil chemists or practical farm demonstrators, who shall reside in the respective counties and shall devote their entire time to assisting farmers in getting into practice on their own farms the best approved methods of agriculture.
These demonstrators to be paid jointly by the general government and the several states."

As offering a fair index to the thoughts of the farmers on such questions as the tariff, it is noted that a resolution for protection was turned out. It was the only important resolution presented that was not acted upon.

Morning sessions were featured by addresses of Mr. Nixon, advocating merchant marine, and Mr. Hays.
The latter's reception was not the most cordial and when he mentioned greetings from the department not a cheer went up.

Mr. Nixon, on the other hand, was loudly applauded as he urged increase of shipping interest through discrimination in favor of American ships, the policy under which America's commercial navy grew to greatness. His address may result in the farmers taking a stand in favor of his plan.

Though a trade balance is in favor of this country, he said, it is being drained of its gold through America's policy of not engaging in commerce with foreign nations as extensively as it should. He declared the country was being developed in a lopsided fashion and said recurring depressions came through failure of proper extension of commercial interests in foreign countries; and on the waters. Predicting a doubling within 25 years of the world's trade, he urged that America get part of the increase which, he added, would benefit in a material way.

Subsidies could not buy commerce, he said, a thing that has been demonstrated wherever tried. He blamed American statesmen and politicians for allowing foreign countries to gain trade advantages over this country. He said the agitation for subsidies was kept alive by foreigners to hurt Americans. He urged return to first constitutional privileges and said it was nonsense to say the nation had outgrown these.

A paper by W. M. Bates of Denver, Colo., expressing the same sentiments, was read by A. P. Sandles.

It was decided to abandon propo-sited trips to the Delaware pump-show and factories at Springfield, so that more time could be given to business. Mr. Hays said in part:

It is the duty of the state and nation to become the patrons of country life. The family farm must be sustained and preferred as a place in which to encourage that genetically best one-fourth or one-third of the whole people to reside and produce good sized families of people. It is of interest to the nation and the race to teach the philosophy that the genetically best one-fourth of the people should reproduce more rapidly than the average; that the one-half of the genetically average people should reproduce so as to keep up their numbers, and that the genetically less efficient one-fourth should under racial obligations to reproduce at a less than average rate.

It must be remembered that a higher birth rate on the farm than in the cities will ever continue to supply a surplus of people to replenish the more slowly reproducing urban stocks. And if we can think in the terms of hundreds of years and thousands of years in the future, as in history we think in terms of hundreds of years and thousands of years, we must realize that the great importance of having at least a large part of the best blood so situated that it will produce more rapidly than the average, that the network of human descent may gradually be improved.

The next unit above the farm family is the rural community. We have heretofore been unfortunate in that the possibilities of our rural community life have not been well developed. We have not conserved our rural life with proper organization supplementing the rural home.
The one great drawback of the family farm is isolation, and this can only be overcome by organization of institutions which supplement the farm family. Our opportunities for organizing compact rural community life savers have been neglected. The coalescence of our farm interests is a never present, vital problem.

Mr. Hays then proposed the conservancy of the National Farmers' Congress into a national country life federation modeled somewhat after the plan of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Hays' suggestion is the outgrowth of work he has been carrying on in the agricultural department toward country life development and of the sentiment aroused by President Roosevelt's country life commission.

Mr. Hays suggested a change in the constitution of the association which would establish a federation similar to the German Agricultural Society, a powerful factor in German rural life. The plan contemplates a body made up of delegates from all state federations and farmers' associations, together with representatives of colleges, experiment stations and national organizations in any associated with the improvement of conditions of farm living.

It is claimed that the representation of colleges, stations and other public departments in the federation will prevent it from being drawn into political lines.
The Farmer National Congress today elected George M. Whitmore of Washington, D. C., to the presidency of the organization for a term of two years. The election was hotly contested by W. L. Ames of Wisconsin and C. F. Sanford of London, O.

BUCKEYE FARMERS FORM A CONGRESS

Growing out of a meeting of Ohio legislators in attendance on the Farmer's National Congress at the Southern Hotel yesterday, the Ohio Farmers' Congress was organized. It will consist of three delegates from every farmers' institute in the state.

With practically no dissenting voice, a platform was adopted which includes parcels post, national aid or better highways, improvement of inland waterways, government aid for the teaching of agriculture in Ohio schools and a declaration that Ohio farmers are opposed to "farmers being compelled to buy in a protected market and sell in an unprotected market."

This last plank is a slap at the late reciprocity trade pact. The congress adopted another resolution calling on congress to enact laws that will prohibit the shipment of quar into dry territory.

Friends of former Dairy and Food Commissioner Renick W. Dunlap—not, however, with his knowledge, or approval, it is understood—attempted to have adopted a resolution to the effect that Secretary of Agriculture Wilson should be displaced by Mr. Dunlap. The resolution was tabled.

W. A. Budaly of Middletown was chosen temporary president, with A.
Sandles temporary secretary.
These officers, with the following, composed a committee on organization: J. Mason Prugh of Dayton, A.
Huber of Defiance, Austin Herrick of Twinsburg, C. H. Norris of New London and G. A. Powell of Sidwell.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physi-derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure,

Hundreds of Newark Readers Know What It Means.
The kidneys are overtaxed;
Have too much to do.
They tell about it in many aches and pains.

Early symptoms of kidney ills.

A Newark citizen tells here the way to keep the kidneys well.
C. L. Starr, 89 Hancock St., Newark, O., says: "I had acute pains through my back and my kidneys were weak, causing me no end of wanoyance. I spent considerable money for medicines and physicians' treatments, but to no avail until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me so greatly that I publicly endorsed them in November, 1907. At this time I do not wish to retract one word from my former statement and I am pleased to again say that Doan's Kidney Pills are an effective kidney medicine."

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters.
You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?
The general health of women is so infinitely associated with the local health of the essential feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and restores the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address:

THE STORY OF THE FAMILY

"Oh, I should have trusted you more. The thought of my ingratitude hurts to my very heart. I received his letters. They consumed me."

"And they won you away from us. But that is life and love."

Madge raised her head from her mother's breast. "Wait, mother, hear me. And so, longing to be free, to set behind me the intolerable torture of that narrow, stuffy, hated village I fled to him."

"And you promised to be his lawful wedded wife—to love, honor, and obey until death. Yes, Madge, those are the very words. And with this ring—"

Madge gasped and stood as one paralyzed. Mary looked at her left hand. She caught her breath, and with a supreme effort steadied herself.

"Where is it, Madge? Madge?"

Madge swayed. "Let me go. I can't look at you. Let me go. I don't look into your face."

Mary grasped her hand tightly. "Whose face then can you look into?"

"None. You are hurting me."

"Your wounds are not so deep as mine." She held Madge desperately. "I cannot let you go. I am your mother. You are my flesh and blood. You need me now. I shall not fail you. Come to me."

She drew her closer with physical hunger in her old face. Madge raised her weary, miserable eyes, and for the first time looked straight into her mother's face. "Can you take me to you again? I am—not—his—wife."

"Oh, my God!" for a moment her strength was overcome. Then her arms closed around Madeline, who sank upon her breast. "You are still my child. And I am your mother. We will go home, Madge. Come. We shall all go home together."

With keen decision of action she insisted that Madeline put on her hat at once.

While Mary waited, David entered. Mary held out her hands in glad relief. "David, I need you, now. I am in trouble. We must take Madge home with us right now. Do you understand me, David, do you?"

"Well, it isn't nix this time, David. Madge is going home with us to stay. She hasn't any other place to go."

"That's what I told Dad. These minstrel guys ain't got no homes. When the season closes, I suppose that we will have Mr. Nickle-Stick boarding with us free of charge."

"No, David," firmly, "Madge will never see him again."

"Oh, she won't. Then he has thrown her?"

Mary looked fixedly at him. In her strange, unwavering gaze he read the truth. "I'm on. I'm on. They ain't married. He's ruined her. By God, I'll kill him."

He started for the door. Mary clung to him. "No, no, no. Not that, my boy, you shan't stain your hands with human blood."

"Yes, I will. I'll shoot the dog while he's leading the parade. I'll take him by the throat with my naked hands and kill him in front of all of the people. Then I'll beat his head into the wall with his baton. Let me go." But Mary had looked at the door previously. We hammered at the door and tried to break it down. "David," she cried, "It is me you will kill. Two wrongs don't make one right. You will only make a terrible scandal through which I cannot live. God will take care of him."

David relaxed. Boyish tears filled his eyes.

"Promise me you will do nothing. David, swear it. Give me your word of honor. Do this much for me."

"Whatever you say, Ma. But it is asking a good deal of me. The damned dirty whelp! Isn't anything going to happen to him? What'll Dad say?"

"He'll know in good time. I shall tell him in my own way. It must all be left to me."

Her arms closed about David's shoulders. She raised her face in supplication.

"Oh, my children, my children."

It was afternoon a week later.

David, in a flannel shirt, his arms and neck burned, was cutting the fingers from the pair of old gloves, as he stood in the sitting room near Mary. Some subtle change in the boy wrought by that bare contact with the tragic seriousness of life, gave energy and purpose to his expression.

"This lawn mowing gag puts blisters on your hands to beat the band. But I've cleaned up an acre of grass in the last three days—which ain't so rotten, considering that I never shaved a front yard before in my life."

"I'm so glad, David, that you are not disappointed in your work. I didn't believe you would stick to it when you began."

"I wasn't stuck on the idea myself. But I had to begin sometime. Keep your eye skinned on Dave, the grass-chopping king, and you will see the Snead homestead begin to look like white folks lived here. I've quit clipping on your hands to beat the band. But I've cleaned up an acre of grass in the last three days—which ain't so rotten, considering that I never shaved a front yard before in my life."

Keep your eye skinned on Dave, the grass-chopping king, and you will see the Snead homestead begin to look like white folks lived here. I've quit clipping on your hands to beat the band. But I've cleaned up an acre of grass in the last three days—which ain't so rotten, considering that I never shaved a front yard before in my life."

"I'm so glad, David, that you are not disappointed in your work. I didn't believe you would stick to it when you began."

"I wasn't stuck on the idea myself. But I had to begin sometime. Keep your eye skinned on Dave, the grass-chopping king, and you will see the Snead homestead begin to look like white folks lived here. I've quit clipping on your hands to beat the band. But I've cleaned up an acre of grass in the last three days—which ain't so rotten, considering that I never shaved a front yard before in my life."

forth only to withdraw at once to its hiding place. "Say, Ma, half of that ten-spot comes to you every week."

He turned quickly away. Headlines in the New York newspapers on the table caught his attention. He smoothed the sheet nervously. Then he clutched it frantically. "Damn him!" he cried. "He's got his! He's got his!"

Mary arose in quick alarm. "What's the matter, David?"

He read aloud a spectacular notice of Paul Churchill's death in a railway accident. "It's come, Ma. He got it good, the yellow dog. Killed, killed, killed! He's dead—he's dead. And his soul has gone to hell—to hell. You had it right, Ma. 'God will take care of him.' And now he's out of the way. Thank you, God, thank you."

Mary watched him tear the paper frenziedly into bits. Then she said steadily, "Never speak of him again, my boy. Put the whole awful thing behind you. We must look forward. He has passed."

Say, Ma, now maybe Madge will marry Steve Wendell. But Mrs. Snead made no answer. She was thinking only of breaking the news to her husband.

They heard John's comfortable voice in the doorway. "You look like a candidate for County Clerk on the Labor ticket. Didn't know it was in you, Dave." Then to Mary as he sank into an easy chair. Well, mother, seems like old times to have Madge back with us."

Dave shot a hasty glance at his mother. He retreated hastily to the lawn.

Mary put the mending basket on the table. "It is much better for Madge to be here, I think."

"Why, what do you mean by that?"

"Paul will not return to us."

"Who says so? Why won't he return? She's his, isn't she? Answer me that she's his?"

Mary took his hand. "Father, we have lived together for twenty-five years. During all that time I have never asked you to do a thing against your will. But I ask it now. Madeline is not his. She is ours."

"What was she doing, those two weeks she was away? By God, you'll tell me that!"

"She was dying of shame."

"Is that why you brought her back from Springfield so hurriedly that afternoon? Then there was no more?"

"Madeline is still ours. Just that and nothing more."

"I'll drive her from the house. Do you suppose that I am going to allow any child of mine to live under my roof and forever remind me of the awful shame that has befallen us? By God, I'll find him and if he don't marry her I'll kill the dog and cut him into a thousand pieces. No, she shall not stay. What lesson do you suppose Ruth would learn if she knew?"

"Ruth shall not know. It has taught us a lesson. We shall watch when Ruth grows into advanced girlhood and has reached that age of maturity when she needs the advice of older people. It will never happen to Ruth."

"But I'll drive her from the house."

"Then you will drive me with her, John Snead. We will go together. The blow fell hardest upon me. Let him who is without guilt cast the first stone. You and Dave spent most of your time with the sporting things and you could not see that a little more attention at home would have soothed the restlessness that comes to every girl when she has reached an advanced stage girlhood. I have forgiven her. You must forgive her. We all must forgive her."

"Does Dave know of this?"

"Yes, that is why he has changed."

"What did he do?"

"He wanted to kill him in Springfield. It nearly drove the poor boy mad. But when I told him that it would kill me instead, that I could not live through the scandal, he did as I wanted him to do—to forgive his sister and comfort her, and let God take care of Churchill."

John groped for Mary's hands. Suddenly he gave way and embraced her convulsively. "You're right, Mary. You're the heart of the family. I forgive. Send her to me."

"Sh! She's coming. Take her into your arms, to your heart. Hold her there. Keep the family together. God bless you!"

"Madeline entered the room happily. The fresh country air had brought back her soft, innocent expression. Quiet, deep joy glowed in her beautiful eyes."

She put her arms fondly around her father's neck. "How beautiful all the world is. How splendid to be home again with you. I could not endure to be away again."

He held her away for a moment. She read love and full understanding in his face.

Then, with a little choking cry, she threw herself into his arms, and in that close embrace the past was set aside forever."

The broad yellow glow of the evening lamp made a cheerful light for the group. The light shone on Mary's spectacles as she mended and made a pale cameo of Ruth's face upturned to absorb the fairy story Madeline was telling her. At the doorway the lamp glow faintly ended. In the silver moonshine flooding the veranda sat John and Dave, rocking in unison, side by side, the feet on the veranda rail, their cigar smoke quivering upward.

A SIMPLE WAY TO REDUCE WRINKLES.

(From The Home Maker.)

Bear in mind that wrinkles, as well as bagginess of cheek or chin, are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such disuse smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition there's nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple wash lotion you can easily make at home. Get an ounce of powdered sassailla at your druggist's and a half pint of witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This treatment at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissue—which of course smoothes out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates circulation, bringing natural color to faded cheeks.

GIRL IN DIVERS SUIT EXPLORES LAKE'S BOTTOM

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 14.—Having donned a diver's suit and spent half an hour yesterday exploring the depths of Lake Superior Miss Gladys Jenney, daughter of R. H. Jenney, a lumberman of this city, is entitled to the honor of being the first woman in the Lake Superior country to visit the fishes in their native habitat.

Miss Jenney accepted a challenge and was lowered 60 feet beneath the surface of the water.

Some time having elapsed, the men above became uneasy and hauled her to the surface, although she had not given the signal to be raised.

Miss Jenney so strenuously objected that she was permitted to return and complete her observations. Miss Jenney was under water for more than half an hour.

"It was the most unique experience of my life," said Miss Jenney, "and I shall again delve into the depths of Lake Superior at the first opportunity. I would rather explore the hidden mysteries of the sea than ride in an airship."

WARDEN JONES WRITES HOGAN ANENT THE PEN

Columbus, Oct. 14.—In a letter to Attorney General Hogan today Warden Jones of the penitentiary declares that the attorney general's "long drawn out" investigation into the penitentiary affairs is demoralizing the discipline of the institution.

The escape of the two convicts is said to have instigated the warden's letter. The warden says in his letter that statements are being made by witnesses at the investigation that are absolutely false. He criticizes the attorney general for allowing testimony that does not come from sworn witnesses to get before the public.

Attorney General Hogan dictated a reply to Jones today in which he stated that he cannot understand why the present investigation of the pen should in anyway interfere with the discipline or with every official and employee going ahead and doing his duty.

Mr. Hogan states that he expects to give Jones every opportunity to refute the testimony of witnesses who have testified.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE SUIT

In the case of Clinton E. Van Voorhis vs. David Hall, the jurors returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, Hall.

Plaintiff brought the suit to recover damages for the burning of a number of trees on his premises in Newton township, caused by, as he alleged, negligence of defendant in starting a fire on his (Hall's) premises to burn a quantity of leaves, the fire spreading to the premises of Van Voorhis.

PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE.

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

Mrs. Tressie Nelson, 1503rd Av., N., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "As Peruna has done me a world of good I feel in duty bound to tell of it, in hopes that it may meet the eye of some who has suffered as I did."

"For five years I really did not know what a perfectly well day was, and if I did not have headache, I had backache or a pain somewhere, and really life was not worth the effort I made to keep going."

A good friend advised me to use Peruna and I was glad to try anything, and I am very pleased to say that six bottles made a new woman of me and I have no more pains and life looks all bright again.

There are a great many phases of woman's ailments that require the assistance of the surgeon.

But by far the greatest number of such cases are amenable to correct medicinal treatment.

A vast multitude of women have been relieved from the ailments peculiar to their sex through the use of Peruna.

Our Medical Department receives many letters from all parts of the country relating to subjects of vital interest to womankind.

Of the vast multitude of women who take Peruna only a very small percentage consider it necessary to write us on the subject.

While it is not affirmed that Peruna will relieve every case of this kind, it is certainly the part of wisdom for every woman so afflicted to give Peruna a fair trial.

Mrs. Joseph Lacelle, 124 Glenora Ave., Ottawa, East, Ontario, Canada, writes:

"I suffered with backache and headache for over nine months and nothing relieved me until I took Peruna. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable, half-dead, half-alive condition."

"I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peruna they would soon know its value and never be without it."

Mrs. Ella Miskell, R. F. D. 2, Box 80, Scottsburg, Indiana, writes:

"I suffered for two years with catarrh in the head, having such pains in the head and face that I feared I would lose my reason. I tried every known remedy, but gradually grew worse. Nights of restlessness would succeed days of agony. After taking twelve bottles of Peruna I am entirely well."

FRATERNAL ORDERS

Modern Woodmen.
Cedar Camp No. 4727, M. W. A., met in regular session Monday night. One application was received and elected to membership. The officers and team had a practice drill. Since the weather is cooler the attendance is better. Remember the turkey banquet at the close of this year's business, and if you have one applicant adopted you are on the banquet. Two applicants adopted, you can bring your wife or friend and the more you have adopted the more tickets you get on the banquet. Come to the next meeting of the Camp and get ready for the fall and winter work.

Haymakers.
Minnewa Haymakers' Association No. 521, met in regular session Tuesday night and considerable business was transacted. Several companions were reported as being unable to make any more hay, were made to confer the degree at the next regular session on November 14, as there are several "tramps" hankering after the mysteries of the degree and they will be given an opportunity to "get wise" at this meeting. Now is the time to get busy after the "tramps" and have their applications in for this meeting as this will begin the fall and winter work. On that night there will be a big parade and every member of the Association is requested to meet at the Mayflower and turn out in this parade in full Haymaker uniform. The band is being re-organized and you can expect some of the latest music from them.

Red Men.
Minnewa Tribe No. 52 Improved Order of Red Men met Friday night with a good turnout. Two applications were received and referred to committees. The first warrior in scouting the forest found in waiting six brothers to be advanced to the Warrior's degree which was conferred upon these brothers. The Boosters committee of Minnewa tribe is still hard at work and submitted a good plan to capture palefaces. The tribe wants to reach the 300 mark by January 1, 1912. The Great Sachem, Max Levy, has offered a beautiful diploma of the roll of honor to each tribe who makes an increase of 25 members between July 1, 1911, and January 1, 1912.

The tribe has enjoyed a good increase since July 1. The improved order of Red Men enjoys the proud distinction of being the pioneer fraternity of America and has a total membership of over 550,000 members in good standing. Freedom was its foundation stone; patriotism and Mutual Help its present inspiration. Its mission is to relieve suffering and to promote friendship, and preserve the American traditions. A class will be adopted on the first meeting night in November.

At the regular meeting of Olive Branch Lodge, No. 34, of Odd Fellows, held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, there was a good attendance of the members together with a number of visitors. The regular business was disposed of after which other matters of interest to the lodge were disposed of.

At 2:30 in the afternoon there will be a meeting for the purpose of conferring the past official and grand lodge degrees and exemplify the subordinate secret work. In the evening at 7:30 Grand Master Bachtel will deliver an address. There will be other speakers, followed by a banquet. Any brother desiring to take the P. G. degree, Tuesday, who has mislaid his certificate should take the matter up at once with the recording secretary.

We are promised that this will be the great event of the year in Encampment Odd Fellowship.

The home-coming of Johnstown Lodge 422, I. O. O. F., on Tuesday afternoon and evening in Johnstown, was somewhat interfered with by the threatening weather, but was none the less a decided success. In the afternoon Rev. W. H. McDaniel of Rushville, O., delivered a fine speech which was greatly enjoyed by those present. At six o'clock a splendid banquet was served in the K. of P. banquet hall, at which about 200 partook. At 7:30 o'clock o. m., Hon. Ivor Hughes, Past Grand Master of the Odd Fellows, delivered one of the best fraternal speeches ever heard here. He was followed by Congressman W. A. Ashbrook, who briefly dwelt upon the sentimental side of the home-coming and the exemplification of the lessons of the ritual. The home comers were then invited to return to the K. of P. banquet hall, where refreshments were served with Congressman Ashbrook as toastmaster. Bros. Hughes, Prof. Brown, Patten, Allen, Wolfe and King of Granville made pleasing remarks. A number of selections by the Johnstown orchestra and the song "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" brought the home-coming to a close. It was a most enjoyable close. It was a most enjoyable occasion throughout.

W. C. T. U.

It is desired that all members come out and encourage our new president with their presence. An excellent convention was held in Utica on Saturday, October 7. HEAD WAS SCALY HAIR ALL CAME OUT

And Baby's Face Broke Out in Red Bumps, Spread on Hands and Arms. Got Worse All the Time.

Mother Says, "I Don't Think Anything Else Would Have Cured Him Except Cuticura."

"When my first baby was six months old he broke out on his head with little bumps that would not go away. They would dry up and leave scales. Then I would break out again and it spread all over his head. All the hair fell out and he was scaly all over. Then his face broke out all over in red bumps and it kept spreading until it was on his hands and arms. I bought several boxes of ointment, gave him blood medicine, and had two doctors treat him, but he got worse all the time. He had it about six months when a friend told me about Cuticura. I sent for it and began to use it. He began to take long naps and to stop scratching his head. After taking a few bottles of Resolvent, a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, in three days after using them he was sound and well, and never had any breaking out of any kind. His hair came out all over his head. I don't think anything else would have cured him except Cuticura."

"I have bought Cuticura Ointment and Soap several times since to use for cuts and sores and have never known them to fail to cure what I put them on. The best that I have ever used for toilet purposes." (Signed) Mrs. F. E. Harmon, R. F. D. 2, Adams, Tenn., Sept. 10, 1910. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 103, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, with 25-c. book on the skin.

Marion Blizzard, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Western Muskingum county, died at his home one mile north of Frazzysburg, Friday night at 7 o'clock, after an illness of only a few days with acute grip, which finally resulted in a blood vessel in his head bursting, and which was the immediate cause of his death. Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child. It is in her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

LECTURE COURSE AT HIGH SCHOOL

The excellence of the high school lecture course last year won for it great popularity, as was evidenced Saturday morning when the tickets for the 1911-12 course were put on sale at Erman's drug store. As early as 6 o'clock people began assembling in the Arcade, and when the doors of the drug store were thrown open a long line of ticket purchasers extended nearly the entire length of the Arcade had assembled. Several ticket handlers were kept busy for several hours reserving seats and the sale is said to have been one of the heaviest that was ever made in the city. The attractions that will be furnished during the course are as follows: Palmer's Kaffir Boys Choir, Oct. 24; Boston Philharmonic Orchestra Club, Nov. 7; Dr. George R. Stuart, Nov. 30; Hon. J. Frank Hanley, Dec. 19; Noah Beilharz, Jan. 25; Dr. L. B. Wickersham, Feb. 5; Dr. H. V. Adams, Feb. 28; International Operatic Company, March 14; Margaret Stahl, March 23; The Roney Boys, date to be supplied later.

MANCHU

(Continued from Page 1.) foreign marines landed today to protect the foreign concessions. They are commanded by the Japanese admiral, Kawashima. The women and children are being taken aboard the warships, of which there are two American, two Japanese, three British and one German. Standing a short distance from these ships is a Chinese squadron of six battleships. Several other foreign vessels are reported en route here.

Consular advice here today state that the rebel artillery has occupied a hill commanding Hankow and the rebels have taken possession of the railway station. The allied foreign marines have landed and are protecting the foreign concessions under command of the Japanese Admiral, Kawashima, the head of the third squadron of the Japanese navy.

The Chinese gunboats are anchored off the foreign concessions for their own safety.

The American Consul General at Hankow, Roger S. Greene, crossed the Yangtze River to Wu Chang accompanied by the commander of the American gunboat, Helena, several correspondents and two Chinese interpreters. The party went unarmed and entered the gates of the city after they had been opened for a squad of rebel artillery to pass out.

The party interviewed Colonel Li, the rebel commander, who treated them with every courtesy and assured them of their safety while in the city. The Consul-General gathered up 44 foreigners who had not yet left the city, including Americans, Englishmen and Italians, and took them back to Hankow. The missionaries were accompanied by 300 of their Chinese proteges. The party was unmolested on its way through Wu Chang being escorted all the way by a band of rebel troops.

RED SKIN IN FAMILY.
While examining a hole in a sudsy undergarment a woman noticed her hands which looked very red and angry. "If you'd throw away that yellow stuff and use Ilevitt's Easy Task Laundry Soap, as I do," smiled a friend, "you'd cut your washing troubles in two—save your clothes, and my! how fine your hands would feel. You know it's the original white, pure kind. Your grocer sells it."

RETORT COURTEOUS.
"I wish no pay for this poem," remarked the long-haired individual, "I merely submit it as a compliment." "Then, my dear sir, permit me to return the compliment," replied the editor with true journalistic courtesy.—Philadelphia Record.

It's Equal Doesn't Exist.
No one has ever made a salve, ointment or balm to compare with Eucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the one perfect healer of cuts, corns, burns, bruises, sores, scalds, boils, ulcers, eczema, salt rheum. For sore eyes, cold sores, chapped hands or sprains it is supreme. Unrivaled for piles. Try it. Only 25c. at F. D. Hall's.

COL. TAYLOR

Perhaps one of the most famous of Colonel Taylor's works was "Evolution of the Statesman." It appeared in 1905 and was much used during the gubernatorial campaign of former Governor Pattison. In this work he deals with conditions found in legislatures and boss managed politics.

Colonel Taylor was one of the well known figures at Democratic state and national conventions and during campaigns lent his pen and voice to the political cause he espoused. A recent biographer has written of him: "A type of the old-time Democratic editor, a man who has been an abiding force in the journalism of Ohio for half a century. In all these years he has played many parts and has been the historian of many events, all of which he knew and a part of which he was."

NEW RUGS FOR A NICKEL.
When the rugs and carpets grow dingy, don't throw them away as long as the pile and nap remain. You can renew the original brightness of color without taking them up—scrub the rug or carpet with hot suds made from Hewitt's Easy Task soap, just as you would scrub the bare floor, then wipe up the suds with a damp cloth.

Hewitt's Easy Task soap acts directly on the dirt and grease. Try it next time. It's only a nickel a cake.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE FRIDAY EVE.

A fair sized audience assembled at the auditorium of the High school on Friday evening to listen to a lecture on "Christian Science," delivered by Bliss Knapp, C. C. S. B., of Boston, Mass., and a member of the board of lecturership of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The audience was made up of members of the Christian Science church of this city, and those interested in their belief. On Christian Science, the following may be said:

That which determines the real import of Christian Science is its theology, and by way of application this theology exhibits a system of healing and reformation, necessarily mental and spiritual, which system is based on the inspired word of the Bible, a leading point in its theology, and one which physicians are now admitting to be true, is the mental nature of disease. Christian Science has realized its results in mental and spiritual healing, which is made possible by its theology. Contrary to popular belief there is no connection between Christian Science and hypnotism; for it is not human will power, but the understanding of God's presence which heads as truly now as in the time of the primitive Christians. Mrs. Eddy has received the best spirit which is embodied in the union of religion and healing. All diseases are mental, and may be removed not by drugs, but by spiritual understanding and childlike humility. "Love and Health," Mrs. Eddy's wonderful treatise on Christian Science, presents a accurate and exposition of this science that thousands of people have been cured of all forms of chronic and acute disease by the simple reading of the book, fulfilling the scripture, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place," is an old saying which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

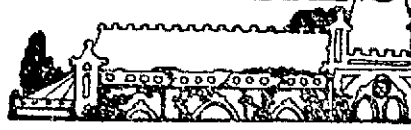

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy is a hair tonic and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

BANDITS ROB RELIEF TRANS

Mexico City, Oct. 14.—To the death and disaster from the tidal wave and hurricane which devastated 250 miles of the coast of Sonora is now added the fear that few of the relief trains sent out have reached their destination owing to the activity of bandits. When word of the disaster first reached the governor of the state, relief trains were immediately sent out but were unarmored. Reports now drifting in from the stricken country indicate that only a small percentage of these arrived. Troops are being sent with every train today. The latest reports from the west coast say that the loss of life and the property damage are even greater than was at first thought.

Is the World Growing Better?
Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Goff of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters she now advises other sufferers everywhere to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes, "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully. They will help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at F. D. Hall's."

STENOGRAPHER GETS ALLOWANCE FOR COURT WORK

Miss Jones of Knox County Finally Gets Pay in Full for Work in Lingafelter Case.

Judge C. W. Seward on Thursday granted L. C. Stillwell of Mt. Vernon a rehearing on the question of fees claimed by Miss Lucie A. Jones as due in the old case of Ohio vs. James Lingafelter. Some time ago the court heard the matter and gave judgment for $158.85, only a part of the claim, holding that Licking county was not liable for the stenographer's fee for the bill of exceptions made at the instance of Lingafelter. Mr. Stillwell, attorney for Miss Jones, immediately sought a rehearing of the matter, and this was granted Thursday. Judgment was rendered for full amount of the claim, $497. The ruling establishes a new precedent in the district—that the state or county must pay for bills of exceptions ordered by defendants in criminal cases.

Mr. Stillwell also won in the civil action of O. Ransom vs. Andrews Co., in which Ransom got judgment for $700 and interest, the full amount of his claim. This case grew out of the building of a bank structure at Utica. The defendant claimed that the work had not been completed according to contract.

(Also Called Tetter, Scur Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.)
ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for awhile, to return worse than before. Remember I make this broad statement after putting ten years of my time on this one disease and handling in the mean-time a quarter of a million cases of this dreadful disease. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me T.O. 243 I will send you a bottle gratis, of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me to-day you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it and you will see I am telling you the truth. Dr. J. E. Cananady, 1421 Park Square, Sedalia, Mo. References: Third National Bank, Sedalia, Mo. Could you do a better act than to send this notice to some poor sufferer of Eczema?
